

The Secondary Benefits of Paying Child Support

Paying child support does more than support your child's basic needs to live a productive life.

Did You Know?

- Child Support = Success in School
Children whose parent pays consistent child support are better behaved and more successful in school.
- Child Support = Increased Security
Parents who pay child support provide the basic necessities their children need to grow into healthy adults.
- Child Support = College Degrees
Older children who receive child support finish considerably more schooling, are more likely to complete high school, and are more likely to attend college.
- Increased Contact = Child Support
Generally, the more contact a parent has with the child, the more likely they will pay support.

Help your child secure the bright future they deserve!
